Dear Samsu Sempena,

We are glad to inform you that your paper entitled "Characterizing Speculative Decoding Dynamics for Large Language Models on Consumer-Class GPUs" has been accepted as an oral or video presentation in "The 6th International Conference on Electrical, Computer, Communications and Mechatronics Engineering " and for publication in the IEEE Conference Proceedings.

ICECCME'26 will take place in Bali, Indonesia, from 15 to 17 October 2026. As the deadline approaches, more details will be provided.

According to the conference regulations, only those papers that have been duly registered and presented on the conference day are considered for submission to IEEE Explore. The conference program will be communicated in due course.

Please complete your conference registration through this link:

https://www.ecer.org/register_new/register.php?conf=iceccme-2026

Please note that your registration becomes valid after you make your payment.

The IEEE Copyright and Consent Form must be signed electronically, and you will be notified later.

Please revise your paper according to the reviewer's comments and upload the CAMERA-READY version that addresses all the reviewer's comments before the defined deadline. Please strictly follow the IEEE template and do not use any other formatting styles. Please pay special attention to the format style.

Please upload the camera-ready version of your paper through CMT following the guidelines on the website. The similarity ratio of the camera-ready version should not exceed 25%; please pay special attention.

We want to thank you for your interest.

Hope to see you in BALI,

Yours sincerely,
ICECCME'26 Organizing Committee
